About JFrassini Head Wraps

Brief History

Originating in the city of Venice, California in January of 2000, JFrassini's Designer Head Wraps have since put a smile on the faces of people the world over. The product design came from his personal desire to find a reliable head wrap that offered quality, and style. To find a wrap that fit securely to the head, but not at the cost of comfort. As he perfected his creation, Frassini found that other people were immediately drawn to the wrap's unique design. After a few sales, Frassini was convinced he had a winning product on his hands.

About the Product

Made from imported Italian (600-count) Cotton, JFrassini head wraps are built for comfort and elegance. They are machine-washable, long-lasting, and one size conveniently fits all. These head wraps are utilized for many reasons, including:

- Encasing dreadlocks in a stylish fashion
- Protecting the sensitive scalps of cancer patients
- Adherence to religions customs - such as those observed by Orthodox Jews and Muslims
- Helping women deal with an unfortunate bad hair day
- And, absorbing the sweat, or taming the unruly hair of athletic people

Availability

JFrassini designer head wraps sell wholesale for $5 dollars per unit, and retail for $10 dollars. They are currently available at:

- The Reflections Boutique in the UCLA Center for Integrative Oncology.
- The CHW California Hospital Medical Center of Los Angeles.
- In local boutique stores, such as Intimate Image, in Woodland Hills & Santa Monica.
- Online, at JFrassini.com.
- And, at the Venice Beach Boardwalk.
